

It's Good To Be 'Back Home Again'!

Oakville Festivals of Film and Art (OFFA) Proudly Presents Sheridan Alumna's Award-Winning Animation, Back Home Again at a Screening May 6th, 2022.

April 2022 - Oakville, ON - The Oakville Festivals of Film and Art (OFFA) presents the screening of "Back Home Again" in partnership with Bell Let's Talk, Sheridan College, and Sheridan Alumna and Executive Producer Charmaine Hammond. The film has traveled the country's film festival circuit and is making a special appearance in Oakville.

Inspired by community resiliency after one of the largest wildfire evacuations in Canadian history which impacted the lives of more than 80,000 residents of Fort McMurray and area in 2016, the award-winning animated short film titled, Back Home Again, has been brought to life with an all-star voice cast.

The story is told through the eyes of the woodland creatures that inhabit the land of Fort McMurray Wood Buffalo. The all-star voice cast donated their time to the production, including Jeremy Renner, Martin Short, Kim Basinger, Eugene Levy, Catherine O'Hara, Michael J. Fox, Howie Mandel, Ed Asner, Lorne Cardinal, Gordon Pinsent, Mena Suvari, Bill Burr, Tom Green, Norm Macdonald, Harland Williams, Sherri Shepherd, Marlon Wayans, Scott Thompson, and Tantoo Cardinal. The film is being showcased to help build mental health awareness and spark conversations in communities across Canada and around the world.

OFFA has chosen May 6th to hold the screening to coincide with Canadian Mental Health Week, and Emergency Preparedness week, both taking place the first week of May. It's also the anniversary of the 2016 wildfires (while based on the Fort McMurray wildfires the film is really a story about community, hope and resilience).

"OFFA is proud to be partnering with Bell Let's Talk, Sheridan College, and Charmaine Hammond, to bring this incredible film about resilience and hope to our community during what has been one of the most difficult times in recent history. This film and panel will inspire us to learn how to safeguard our own mental health. As a Sheridan Professor, I am also very proud to be part of the team myself!" said Wendy Donnan, Executive Director, OFFA.

"Sheridan is proud to partner on this event, and we congratulate alumna Charmaine Hammond (Correctional Worker '85) for her continued advocacy for safe, open conversations on mental health. We know that many of our learners face internal and external pressures that take a toll on their mental health and, in turn, their ability to succeed academically. Films like Back Home Again offer a way to begin the conversation around mental health, giving students the opportunity to broach the subject and find support they may need." Sheldon Pereira, Vice Provost of Student Experience & Enrolment Management, Sheridan College.

Back Home Again was the recipient of the:

- Award of Excellence from Canada Shorts Film Festival
- The Jury Award for Best Animation Short (Alberta) Edmonton International Film Festival
- Best short (Dramatic), Edmonton International Film Festival

Following the screening, there will be a live Q&A, including: Charmaine Hammond (Executive Producer and Sheridan grad), Michael Mankowski (Director and Writer), Dr Ian Dawe psychiatrist in the Mental Health Program at Trillium Health Partners in Mississauga ON, and CEO of Canadian Mental Health Association Halton, Rashaad Vahed. The Q&A will be moderated by Tyler Collins, host of the Oakville Film Festival, Oakville News Reporter, and a Sheridan College Alumna.
